

Among Ourselves

Markowitz Herbold attorneys Harry Wilson, Anit Jindal and Hannah Hoffman have received an Amicus Service Award from the International Municipal Lawyers Association. The trio received the award for service to IMLA's Legal Advocacy program in the City of Grants Pass v. Johnson matter. The Amicus Service Award recognizes lawyers who have been actively involved in legal advocacy for and on behalf of local governments and IMLA, and who have done work to protect and advance local government interests.

Miller Nash partner James Walker has been elected to serve on the board of directors of Greater Portland Inc. (GPI). GPI is a regional public-private partnership that works to create and expand the job market, and drive economic growth in the Portland region. Walker advises Miller Nash's public and private clients on real estate, construction, public contracting and governance and procurement matters.

Miller Nash attorney Alexandra Hutchinson has been elected to serve on the Emerging Professionals Board of the Blanchet House, a local nonprofit that offers food, shelter and aid to those in need. The Emerging Professionals Board is focused on increasing awareness and support of the Blanchet House among a younger demographic. At Miller Nash, Hutchinson assists businesses in a wide range of corporate transactional matters, and has a background in securities and business litigation.

Moves

Two Spruce Law has hired Suzanne M. McVicker. McVicker has practiced law for over 19 years in Oregon and Alaska. Her practice is focused on estate planning, probate, trust administration, and estate and gift tax.

Brenna McLaughlin has joined Lane Powell as an associate on the labor, employment and benefits team. McLaughlin counsels employers of all industries and sizes on a wide range of personnel matters. She also represents clients in litigation involving issues of wrongful termination, discrimination, harassment, retaliation and failure to accommodate disabilities before state and federal courts, administrative agencies, and arbitration.

Andrew H. Stamp has joined VF Law's land use practice team in the firm's Oregon office. Stamp has more than 25 years of experience with Oregon's complex land use planning program. He focuses on zoning and development law, exactions, transportation and access management, drainage and flood damage law, and associated environmental and administrative law issues.

He represents developers and landowners seeking a wide range of land use entitlements from local governments.

Portland business litigation firm Markowitz Herbold has hired three new attorneys. Adele Ridenour joins the firm as of counsel. She will continue her commercial litigation, construction, insurance and design-related disputes practice. Ridenour also advises educational institutions on Title IX, including analyzing school facilities and new construction.

Alexandra Rhee joins the firm as an associate and has extensive experience with eDiscovery, information governance, data privacy and data security.

Nicholas Sanchez joins the firm as an associate. Before joining the firm, he served as a law clerk and worked as a deputy district attorney in Jackson County.

Sara Densmore has joined SBH Legal as an associate. She represents Washington employers and insurers in workers' compensation defense matters.

Tom Byler has joined Corey, Byler & Rew as an of counsel attorney. Byler's practice focuses on water right and natural resources permitting issues, water supply planning and project development, and policy advocacy in administrative and